COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

The tax bills will be out in a few days and there are a few things that I would like to caution taxpayers about. If there is any question about a tax bill it should be brought to my attention as soon as possible so that any errors can be corrected before the end of the year. If a person waits until the middle or last of December, then there isn't time to have the selectmen act on the point in question before the books are closed on December 31.

The tax bills are much larger this year and several people have started paying instalments so that they won't have the whole amount to pay at one time.

Some of the people who live on Bridge Street and Route 2 have requested that I caution the people going to the town dump to be more careful about waste being taken to the dump. A lot of waste is being spilled from vehicles on the way to the dump leaving the mess along the highway. No one wants this sort of litter in front of his house. A little extra care or an extra trip will make things much better for everyone concerned.

The Fire Station Study Committee has had two meetings this past week and another is planned for Tuesday of next week. The committee is considering several locations and types of structure to solve the problem of an adequate fire station. It is the desire of the committee to find a solution that will be within the financial means of the town.

CONSIDERATION BY SCHOOL BUS DRIVERS URGED BY STATE POLICE

"School bus drivers can do a great deal to aid enforcement of Maine's school bus law by their understanding and consideration of the problems of the driving public," the State Police said today.

"A considerate bus driver," they continued, "will not allow long lines of traffic to pile up behind him. He will, when he becomes aware of such a situation, take the first opportunity to give a good, clear, obvious signal to such traffic to pass. By this courteous action, he will be doing much to prevent the hazards created by the building up of a long line of traffic."

"The school bus driver is a privileged operator on the highway," concluded the State Police, "he should not abuse that privilege."

BROWN CO. TRANSFERS LAND TO ME. PARK COMMISSION

Brown Company of Berlin, N. H., has sold 2,875 acres of scenic woodland in Grafton Notch, between Upton and Newry, to the Maine State Park Commission for a reported $35,000.

The area, which contains many natural tourist attractions, borders Rt. 26 for a distance of approximately 5½ miles and varies in width from several hundred feet to as much as a mile.

Popular spots within the new park area include Table Rock, Serew Anger Falls on Bear River, Mother Walker Falls, Moose Cave and the summit of Old Spee Mountain.

According to the records of the Brown Company, logging in the timberlands sold to the Maine Park Commission has been restricted, in recent years, to selective cutting of long logs. The last extensive softwood cut was in the 1930s and an excellent stand of reproduction now covers most of the area.

DEADLINE SEPT. 30 FOR TAXPAYER ACCOUNT NUMBERS

Sixty percent of depositors contacted by savings and loan associations furnished their taxpayer account numbers within a short time of being asked. For most people, the taxpayer account number is the same as the social security number.

Recent laws passed by Congress require banks, savings and loan associations, corporations and other payors of interest and dividends to obtain the taxpayer account number from each depositor and shareholder. The numbers are to be used in reporting to Internal Revenue interest or dividend payments of $10 or more.

Account numbers are needed in processing tax returns under Internal Revenue's automatic data processing system. With more than 2 million taxpayers named William Smith and many thousands of other Smiths, Jones, Browns, etc., the numbering system is necessary to insure proper crediting of each taxpayer's account.

The deadline for reporting taxpayer account numbers is September 30, 1963.

SUNDAY AUTO CRASH TAKES LIFE OF NEWRY MAN

Albert B. Morton, Sr., of Newry, was fatally injured at about 6:40 Sunday morning when the 1960 sedan he was operating left the road near the Branch Brook Bridge on Route 26 in Newry, swerving to the left of the highway, striking a guard rail, crossing the road and traveling a short distance, breaking off a utility pole, and striking a large tree.

He was taken to the office of Dr. John Young in Bethel by an unidentified New Brunswick motorist who came upon the scene seconds after the accident. Mr. Morton was pronounced dead at the doctor's office.

The accident was investigated by Sgt. Albert Jamison, Auburn, of the Maine State Police, and State Trooper William Bickford, Bethel.

For the past 17 years he had been employed at the Oxford Paper Company. He was a member of the F.O.E., No. 1248, Rumford.

Robert J. Gavin II, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Gavin of West Arden, accomplished a feat this summer that many will never achieve. On August 19, two days after his 17th birthday, he took flight tests in Augusta and received his license for flying single engine planes. Two days later he took a flight test from the state inspector and qualified for his license for single engine planes in floats. He not only has flown his father's Cessna 170 but has checked out in a Cessna 120, Cessna 170, and a Piper Cub. "Rocky" took several long cross country trips this summer solo in preparation for these checks. He took his Instrument and Radio Training at Teutobell's Airport in Turner.

At present Gavin is a member of the Senior Class at Gould Academy taking a college preparatory course.

U. OF M. HAS RECORD SUMMER ENROLLMENT

A record enrollment has been recorded at the University of Maine's 1963 Summer session, bolstered by a large turnout of college undergraduates.

Since 2,143 persons have studied at the State University's Portland and Orono campuses and four off-campus sites this summer. The figure includes 2,210 college undergraduates.

The U. M. summer enrollment figure has risen steadily for several years. Some 2,554 persons were enrolled in 1962, as compared to 2,532 in 1961, 1,971 in 1960, and 1,965 in 1959.

Slightly under 1,000 persons attended classes at Portland this summer. About 100 persons studied courses taught in Bethel, Bryant Pond, Deer Isle, and Farmington, and approximately 2,000 were enrolled at Orono.

A further breakdown of the enrollment figure shows that 2,579 were residents of Maine and 573 were from 44 other states and the District of Columbia. Students were also enrolled from Canada, India, Algeria, Costa Rica, Thailand and Vietnam.

Breakdown of the Maine enrollment by counties is as follows: Androscoggin, 132; Arrows, 146; Cumberland, 563; Franklin, 49; Hancock, 125; Kennebec, 174; Knox, 60; Leno, 24; Oxford, 72; Penobscot, 749; Piscataquis, 60; Sagadahoc, 47; Somerset, 44; Waldo, 62; Washington, 66; and York, 161.

The Misses Joan Berabe and Jean-Marie Griffin were home from Berlin High over the week end.

Archie Bennett is some better in health. He will be 93 in October.

The Ellis Olson family have moved to Berlin for the school year.

NECESSARY IN CARRIED
LUNCH

Somewhat sandwiches seem to be the basis of the carried lunch —but if you are watching your calories this doesn't need to be true. A piece of meat—a square of cheese—a leg of chicken, or a can of sardines, can be eaten with the fingers along with such low calorie vegetables as celery, tomatoes, celery, or cucumbers. Topped with a glass of milk this would be a nutritious lunch for the average person, and, best of all, it is low in calories.

1964 ACP TO STRESS 'ENDURING'

BENEFICIAL PRACTICES

Conservation practices which will help farmers establish permanent vegetable cover will be emphasized even more strongly under the 1964 Agricultural Conservation Program, William C. Chapman, Chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee, has announced.

Practices approved for 1964 cost-sharing assistance in Oxford County include: lime and fertilizer for soil improvement and seeding, tree planting, woodlot improvement, farm ponds for livestock and irrigation, sod waterways, diversion ditches, open drainage systems, tile drain, shaping or land grading, and mulching orchards and cropland.

Farmers are encouraged to call at the ASCS County Office to discuss their conservation problems and the possibility of obtaining 1964 ACP cost-sharing.

ing assistance in conserving their soil and water resources.

U. S. Department of Agriculture economists have pointed to a need for shifting millions of acres of land that are now producing row crops and small grains into other uses—from intensive crop production to forestry, grass and legume pasture, cover for wildlife habitat, and other noncrop uses.

Each year, ACP cooperates with farmers and ranchers throughout the country in sharing the cost of establishing about 2½ million acres of permanent vegetative cover of grasses and legumes. Among other conservation practices, they also plant about 350,000 acres of trees, construct nearly 700,000 acres of terraces to prevent soil erosion, and build about 50,000 farm ponds for water-resource management.

In 1962, ACP assisted farmers in Oxford County to lime 206 acres, to seed 68 acres to permanent cover, to plant 44 acres to trees, 73 acres woodlot improvement, 8 farm ponds, 19 acres land leveling, 768 linear feet of tile drainage, 2,700 linear feet of open drainage, 200 linear feet of diversion ditching, 6,075 linear feet of sod waterways.

While the program for 1963 is not yet complete, accomplishments this year are estimated to be at least as great as in 1962, Mr. Chapman said.

20 SECONDS with the NAZARENE

The Bible declares that God looks upon the heart and not the outward appearance. Solomon wrote: as a man "thinketh in his heart, so is he." (Prov. 23:7)

How dangerously mistaken we are to place such importance on the color of the skin and show so little concern for the color of the heart before God.

ANDOVER SAILOR SERVING ABOARD NORFOLK

Clinton C. Littlehale, machinist's mate first class, USN, son of Mrs. Ervena M. Littlehale, of Andover, is serving aboard the destroyer leader USS Norfolk, an Atlantic Fleet unit currently on a four-month goodwill and training cruise around South America.

Norfolk departed her operational port and namesake city, Norfolk, Va., Aug. 12.

She is flagship of the anti-submarine warfare training task force conducting intensive exercises dubbed "Unitas IV." The task force will circumnavigate South America by way of the Straits of Magellan and the Panama Canal.

Upon reaching South America the force will rendezvous with three Latin American Navies on the Atlantic side of the Continent to begin anti-submarine warfare operations designed to improve the capabilities and readiness of all units.

By December Norfolk crewmen will have worked with the Navies of eight South American countries and visited some 17 cities.

SEN. MUSKIE REPORTS

At issue in the current railroad labor dispute are several points of disagreement between rail management and the Railway Brotherhoods. These include two primary issues relating to jobs of train firemen and the make-up of train crews as well as a group of secondary issues, including wage structure and fringe benefits.

Rail management first served notice of proposed rules changes in 1959. The Railway Brotherhoods countered with their proposed changes in 1960. Both parties then submitted these recommendations to a special Presidential study Commission, which recommended specific rules changes and employee protection provisions. The Supreme Court later determined that there was no legal barrier to the carriers' initiating such rule changes, provided appropriate bargaining and recourse to the Railway Labor Act procedures were assured.

Despite attempts at arbitration by mediators, including Secretary of Labor Wirtz, and after several postponements, rail management proposed to put the new work rules into effect August 29. The Railway Brotherhoods made clear their intention to strike if the work rules were instituted.

At this point, the United States stood on the brink of a nationwide rail strike which could have created widespread economic chaos and distress. The Senate Commerce Committee had reported out a resolution which would have provided for binding arbitration with regard to all issues raised by the proposed work rules of November 1959. A majority of the Senate, including myself, believed that the resolution should not provide binding arbitration with respect to the so-called "secondary issues." These we felt, had not yet been negotiated in the collective bargaining process as had the two "primary" issues relating to firemen and crew makeup. By a vote of 75 to 17, the Senate voted to exclude the "secondary" issues from binding arbitration. We did so because of our concern that the resolution have the smallest possible impact upon the principle of free collective bargaining.

With respect to the two primary issues, the overwhelming majority of the Senate clearly believed that the threat of an economically crippling work stoppage required Congressional action. After careful deliberation, I was convinced that we had no choice, in the best interests of the country, but to take the action we did.

COUNTRY FLAVOR

AUTUMN PRELUDE

The four seasons of the turning year constitute a majestic symphony, and each contributes to an entity that includes resurrection, growth, harvest and dormancy.

The music of each movement is distinctive; the music of each blends to make the rounded composition. In September, autumn taps summer on the shoulder. In September we hear the music that is building toward the grand finale of the winter tempests.

When the planets in the vast outer spaces swing into line, men skilled with graphs and charts can tell us the exact moment when the equinox occurs. Then we know that day and night are of equal length. The sun rises due east and sinks due west. The equinox is but a fleeting instant of eternity. Nature's basic law is that time shall never cease.

It is good to feel the cooler air; good to go out in the morning and see blue-black smoke rising from farm house chimneys along the road. The music of a September day includes the clear, far-carrying calls of

SCHEDULE ANNOUNCED FOR SEPTEMBER WOMEN'S FELLOWSHIP

September will be a busy month for members of the Women's Fellowship. Beginning on Friday, Sept. 13, the Executive Board will meet at 10 a. m. at the home of Betty Tebbets.

The quarterly supper, meeting and program will be held on Wednesday, Sept. 18, at Garland Chapel. This will be a potluck supper at 6:30 with Circle No. 1 as hostess. Members are reminded to bring their own table setting as usual. The program will be a report from Judy Haskell on the School of Missions which she attended this past summer at Pilgrim Lodge.

Wednesday, Sept. 25, will be the regular meeting date for individual circles—meeting place first year of the nursing course at Lasell Junior College, Auburn, Mass., and is spending some time at her parents' home. She underwent a tonsillectomy last week at the CMG Hospital, Lewiston.

the blue jays as they flash above the orchard, the chants of the chickadees as they explore the woodshed, and the melancholy calls of the crows from elms in the meadow.

Stand on a ridge among the oaks, in the sugar grove, or among the evergreens above the pasture, and you can hear music in the leaves. When dusk deepens and lights shine from kitchen windows, owls begin to hoot from the woodland and a fox may bark from the upper field.

It is the ripe time of year. The air is filled with fragrances from wild grapes, sun-ripened grasses and drying leaves. In the midst of the ripeness that means a cycle is ending, one should listen for the music. Nature's symphony is never finished, but it always has melody that strikes a chord in the sensitive heart.

prospective members. Arrangements were made to hold an Orientation Tea and social evening for prospective members on September 30, at the home of Mrs. Richard Blake, assisted by Mrs. Eldon Greenleaf. Invitations will be sent to all young women in the area whose husbands are eligible to become Jaycee members; and any young man between the ages of 21 and 35 is eligible.

The purpose and aims of the Jaycee movement will be explained and discussed. Any young women in the area not contacted by letter, and who are interested in attending this tea to learn more about the Jaycees, are urged to contact Mrs. Blake or Mrs. Greenleaf. They are invited to attend regardless of whether they are interested in joining now, or at a later date.

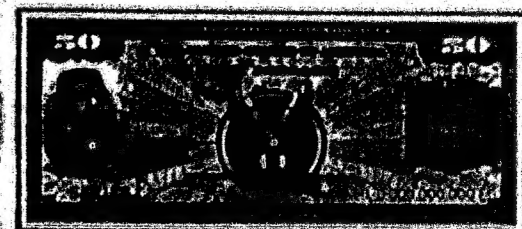

This club offers an excellent opportunity for the young women of Bethel to serve their community, gain self-improvement, and have a social interest with other young people, although their main purpose is to share with their husbands in the brotherhood of the Jaycee Creed as their helpmate. They will also meet many new friends through their association with other Jaycee Wives Clubs. Bethel Jaycee Wives are hopeful that many young women will show an interest by attending this special orientation tea.

Mrs. Eldon Greenleaf will be hostess for the next regular meeting to be held on October 14, assisted by Mrs. Henry Swan. Interested prospective members are invited to attend as new members or guests.

A Balanced Highway Program

Seven years have passed since the start of the accelerated national road-building program authorized by Congress in the Federal-Aid Highway Act of 1956.

The Act provides that the revenue from certain Federal taxes on highway users (principally the 44-per-gallon gasoline tax) is set aside in a Highway Trust Fund and used only for the Federal share of the Federal-State highway program. The Act also provides a long-range schedule of authorizations for the completion of the National System of Interstate and Defense Highways and a "balanced" program of capital improvements on the other Federal-aid systems — primary, secondary and urban.

This long-range plan calls for the substantial completion of the Interstate System by October 1, 1972. Highway planners recognize that this 41,000-mile system of express highways connecting the major centers of population and industry cannot perform its intended function with full efficiency unless it is woven into the total highway system and this means bringing the Federal, State and local highway systems up to standard.

Within the next year, several thousand miles of Interstate System will be opened to traffic. Since 1954 is the halfway point of the program, State and Federal highway officials have set themselves the goal of opening half of the Interstate mileage by the end of that year. What may be of even more interest to the traveling public is the fact that the highway officials also are concentrating on opening long, connected stretches of Interstate highway so as to provide maximum benefits at the earliest possible date.

As the links of the Interstate System are connected up, the benefits derived by motorists will multiply. Driving time and driving tensions will be reduced, and accident costs will be cut dramatically. (On completion, the Interstate System will save upwards of 5,000 lives annually.)

Traffic congestion on parallel primary and secondary routes will be reduced, but traffic on routes interchanging with the Interstate System generally will increase. As traffic patterns change, highway administrators are making provision for improving the highways which are to bear the heavier traffic loads. Necessarily, the Interstate System construction schedule is coordinated carefully with the schedule of highway improvements on other roads.

The balanced highway program recognizes that each road, heavily traveled or not, has a part to play in the functioning of the highway network and that funds available for construction must be distributed accordingly.

At the end of the first seven years of the accelerated program, about 26 percent of the Interstate System (14,323 miles) was open to traffic. Another 41 percent was "in progress," i.e., engineers were designing the highway, right-of-way was being acquired, or actual construction was underway.

Books have arrived and try-outs will start at the Bethel Community Room, Friday evening at 7:30, also Monday evening, same place, same time.

In order to select the necessary supporting committees, a special meeting will be held on October 1, at the home of Mrs. Richard Thompson. Many more members will be needed to make this first production a success. Anyone interested in the cause of the new Bethel Players, for a new Bethel Community Center, are urged to attend this meeting, and to attend try-outs.

A note about the various parts in the play chosen for presentation by the newly activated Bethel Players, "You Can't Take It With You," may aid those who intend to try out, by a sort of brief preview of each member of the large cast of 12 men and seven women.

Penelope Sycamore, a round little woman in her early fifties, gentle and homey, but bitten by the urge to write plays.

Essie Carmichael, her daughter, late teens, an amateur ballet dancer.

Rheba, colored maid, somewhere in her thirties.

Paul Sycamore, Penny's husband, mid fifties, quiet charm and youthful manner.

Mr. De Pina, bald headed little Italian with a serious manner, a fireworks inventor.

Ed Carmichael, early twenties, Essie's husband, nondescript young man (fakes playing a xylophone).

Donald, Ed's pal, same age, helpful sort of lad.

Grandpa Vandebilt, the main character, head of this eccentric household, a kindly old gent, gentle, lively eyes, compassionate nature.

Alice Sycamore, lovely ingenue type, thoroughly normal but loving the members of this screwball family of hers.

Wilbur Henderson, hardboiled member of Internal Revenue Dept.

Tom Kirby, Alice's fiancé, youthful, goodlooking, college man.

Boris Kolenkhov, hairy, bearded, loud, very, very, Russian—a hilarious scene-stealing part.

Gay Wellington, a garish actress-type, bold and brassy, about thirty, who indulges frequently in the fruit of the vine, the hopfield, and the fields of rye.

Mr. and Mrs. Kirby, Tony's dignified parents, somewhat dazzled by Grandpa's family.

Three G-Men, small four-page part, climaxing Act Two—authoritative, dominates action at play's climax. Will take very little rehearsing.

Grand Duchess Olga Katrina, moth-eaten remnant of Russian nobility, but still regal despite faded glamour and tacky clothes, now waiting on table at Child's.

SENIOR CITIZENS

Forty-four Senior Citizens gathered at the Horseman Sept. 10 for the usual monthly meeting. Fair weather, gay spirits, delicious luncheon, and a very interesting program combined to make this one of the best meetings.

The Senior Citizens' thanks go to Rev. Patnode for the helpful thoughts and song shared with them and to Miss Edna Y. Bond for her delightful description of her tour of Greece.

Watch for details of the next meeting October 8 at the same place.
